PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Those of you who attended our last Association annual meeting will remember that we passed a motion effectively transferring ownership of the money we received from the late Mr. Justice Mackinnon to the newly incorporated B.C.S. Foundation.

The existence of the Foundation and the fact that it has now assumed responsibility for supplying funds required to finance the Old Boys' scholarships is going to affect the nature of our Association in the future. Because we no longer have this financial responsibility, the objectives of our financial campaigns will, in my opinion, be more closely allied to helping the School meet specific needs for equipment, teaching aids, and various student projects.

If we are going to meet these goals, your Directors believe that two basic requirements must be met.

First there must be a far greater recognition on our part of the School's particular needs, together with an awareness of the broad role the School can play in today's educational environment. Secondly, we must have a greater number of Old Boys' involved and committed in the process of keeping B.C.S. modern, up-to-date and a leader in its field.

As a first step we asked the Headmaster to appoint one of the masters as an "exofficio" member of the Association's Board of Directors. The main function of this position is to keep the Directors informed on all aspects of the school's operation and expose areas where we can help. In John Cowans (48/54), the first incumbent, we are extremely fortunate to have a dedicated Old Boy and modern educator.

The job of getting more Old Boys' aware and involved has been the subject of a great deal of discussion. One approach, referred to in Bill Sharp's report last year, is to hold annual reunions. This is explained in detail on pages 15 to 17 and your comments on it are welcome.

At one of our meetings, the Directors decided that Board membership should be reorganized on a more geographic basis so that areas with significant concentrations of Old Boys' would be represented on the Board. This would also enable the Headmaster and other staff members to have a contact in these areas to help arrange speaking engagements and other gatherings. The nominations for Directors at the annual meeting will reflect this decision.

Moreover, last year we introduced significant changes in our annual financial campaign as a first major effort in increasing and re-establishing contact with Old Boys. The Class Captain system was abandoned and we elected to have Area Captains instead. Bill Sharp wrote individual letters to all life members none of whom had ever been solicited on an annual basis before, and in October we conducted a telethon for Old Boys' in the Montreal area. Similar campaigns were held in Halifax, Toronto and Ottawa and the results were encouraging from several points of view.

The amount of money raised increased from $8,191 in 1968 to $9,354. Perhaps more important was the fact that many more Old Boys' were contacted in a personal way. The result was an increase in the number of donors — 425 last year compared with 370 the previous year. The telethon also enabled us to update and correct our mailing list which, in spite of John Blue's efforts, had a substantial number of wrong addresses.

Bill Sharp and Rick Hart did a splendid job of organizing and running this year's Annual Giving and, to them, as well as all the others who took part, I am very grateful for their support and dedication.

I am sorry to have to report that Bob Anderson, who acted as our Secretary for the past four years, has decided that he can no longer continue to do so. Bob has been a willing and effective contributor to our Association and finding a replacement is going to be extremely difficult. John Blue and Graham Patriquin continue to help us achieve our objectives in many ways and I think it would be wrong for me not to record our gratitude to them.

For me personally, this was a particularly rewarding and encouraging year. More and more of us seem to be looking for ways to help B.C.S., and this is the only real measure of the health of an Association such as ours. The support and guidance I have had this past year from your Directors, Members of the Staff, the Foundation and the Directors of the School has been gratifying. Our objectives are sound and worthwhile. If all of us continue to give our support there is no reason why our goals cannot be met.

Sincerely,

W. Bradley Mitchell
President

AUDITORS' REPORT TO THE MEMBERS

We have examined the balance sheet of Bishop's College School Old Boys' Association as at October 31, 1969 and the statement of revenue and expenditure for the year ended on that date. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

It was impractical for us to extend our examination of receipts from annual giving beyond accounting for amounts so recorded.

In our opinion, the above balance sheet and the accompanying statement of revenue and expenditure present fairly the financial position of the Bishop's College School Old Boys' Association as at October 31, 1969 and the results of its operations for the year ended on that date, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

Hugh Hallward – Chairman

The School is on the threshold of a further expansion programme.

The decision has been taken to convert the existing gym into a library; build a new gym; convert the Sixth and Seventh Forms to “independent study”, by changing the top floor of School House to academic complexes – thus, having no more School house dormitories – build a new House for the boys dispossessed from School House and plan for a new Chapman House.

This is going to take a lot of money. Possibly a million and a half dollars. I mentioned at Thanksgiving that the Foundation was in operation and had received its first donations. I also indicated that we had better think of collecting five million dollars during the next ten years. The costs of operating are constantly increasing. To make it possible for all but the very rich to send their sons to B.C.S. our bursary programme has to be dramatically improved.

We currently have 35 boys on bursaries or scholarships. This is certainly better than ten years ago, but inadequate for the future.

The Board of Directors is committed to have B.C.S. provide the best possible education. Those traditions of the past that will contribute to this will be retained. The Headmaster has been given full authority to dispense with any customs which he feels are no longer useful.

I hope that all Old Boys will take the trouble to either visit the School or find out in some detail what B.C.S. is currently all about. It is a very different institution to what it was 10-20-30 years ago.

Surrounded by political and educational uncertainties as we are, our aims are to make B.C.S. an excellent School, providing an excellent education in excellent surroundings.

H.G. Hallward

“AN OPPORTUNITY FOR B.C.S. TO SELL ITSELF”

One of the topics which generated a great deal of discussion and difference of opinion at recent meetings of the Directors was the prospect of having “class reunions” at the School. In order to get some reaction from the Old Boys at large we are including the proposal which Bob Ross has prepared in this Bulletin.

Your comments would be appreciated and should be sent to:

1. Reunions should commence 10 years after a boy graduates from the School, and therefore assuming he is in his eighteenth year, this person would be twenty-eight years of age at his first class reunion. Other classes for this reunion could be made up with six-year intervals, thereby including those away from the School for 16 years, 22 years, and 28 years, all returning together. The ages of this group should be in the area of 28, 34, 40 and 46.

THE TWO OBJECTIVES IN HAVING THIS AGE GROUP ARE AS FOLLOWS:

A – The boys away from school 5 years are less likely to return for the major activities than they were in the previous 5 years, as their interests and memories of the School fade into a more active self-centred direction. Their years of schooling have finished, ten years away from the school gives the person who enjoyed the school an opportunity and reason to return, while the one with poor memories can return hoping there has been a change for the better. There seems to be no reason to start a class reunion before the 10th year after graduation.

At 28 years of age it could be a good thing to re-introduce a class to the School, and create an active interest in the minds of those Old Boys. It would be a good thing for them to feel that the School was still proud of its existence and was more than willing to show off its wares to those whose memories have been tarnished.

2. At 28 years of age the graduate is earning his own salary, and although perhaps relatively modest and all accounted for, he is the one now looked upon for more financial support.

The Old Boy at 34 years of age is likely to be married with children, and the time has started for the parents to consider where the children should get their schooling. Obviously at this age the children are young and the tuition seems desperately high. More likely than not the wives of these graduates have never seen the School, and the subject of B.C.S. might rise but once a year, if at that. Therefore this group should be re-indoctrinated, and the School should sell itself to these young parents.

At 40 years of age the graduate likely has a son who could potentially be going to the School, within a few years. Therefore the parents should be exposed to the School so it would bring back many of the fond memories. In being exposed to the School again he may well bring his young son out to the School on some other occasion. The parent now sees again and can compare for himself the worthiness of the School's discipline and organization. The School's job is to sell itself to prospective parents who may send their children away from home. It is at this age also that Old Boys discuss with friends the possibility of enrolling their children at various schools. An enthusiastic 40-year Old Boy who has returned from a reunion, knowing a lot about the School, could be nothing than an excellent ambassador. The best type of advertising must come by word of mouth.

At 46 years of age the Old Boy has reached the age where he either has a son enrolled at the School, or he is at the stage where a decision must be reached as to future education. A reunion for this class would be timely as Old Boys would familiarize themselves again with all that the School has available to offer. As fees continue to rise the fact of scholarships becomes a matter of importance for a great many. This subject together with a review of what the School is endeavouring to do, and what is available to the student, is something which cannot be over-emphasized.

Furthermore, Old Boys who will reach the age of 40 and onward are entering their most successful years, and it is from these people that the School must depend more heavily for financial support. If the School is able to sell itself and its usefulness to these Old Boys, then the School can be nothing other than in a stronger and healthier position.

It is suggested that such reunions should not take in more than 4 classes, and not be beyond the 28 years after graduation.

The reason for this is that in years to come all Old Boys will have the opportunity to attend these reunions. It is this group which in the years ahead are going to be the most important in the School. Once an Old Boy is past the stage where he has children to send to B.C.S., then there is no useful purpose of selling him on the School for educational purposes.

It has been suggested that such a reunion should be held over a week-end commencing Saturday morning. Preferably there should be a home sports event which would be held in the morning for those who could arrive on time. This would help recreate a little of the former esprit de corps. Immediately after the game the School might host the reunion classes and their wives to cocktails in the Head's Wing. This group should lunch at the School in order to keep everyone together. The purpose of the group remaining together is so that they would be available for two or three half to three-quarter hour seminars in the afternoon. A seminar might include the head of a faculty and possibly some outside authority, explaining to the parents a new method of teaching, such as the new maths currently being taught. Basically the seminars would be geared solely to explain new academic procedures and equipment, etc. A class might be summoned to the chemistry lab so that those in attendance would observe what they never knew existed at the School.

After the seminars have finished, all those in attendance should be given a proper tour of the entire campus, preferably by a master who would be in a position to answer all questions.

After this was completed and at a specified hour tea might be served at the Head Master's house for the ladies and something stronger for those who were just sold on an excellent school they can't afford. In the evening a dinner might be held off the school grounds. It might be preferable to have a dinner in Sherbrooke so that those remaining overnight would be close enough to return for the church service Sunday morning. The costs of the dinner should be absorbed by the individuals attending. The church service would be the finale to what one would hope would have been a prize-winning effort by the School.

Compiler - J. G. PATRIQUIN

OLD BOYS' PERSONALS

While the Bulletin is basically a report on the School to its former members, your compiler receives items concerning them from other Old Boys who thoughtfully send them in. Some of these are newsworthy, some, highly significant, and demand space in the Bulletin's pages of record.

BEYOND THE BAMBOO CURTAIN

Our most recent Rhodes Scholar (1962), Norman Webster (52/58), has been appointed correspondent to Peking by the Globe and Mail, Toronto. Newsmen have it tougher in the People's Republic than anywhere on earth; however, we'll bet plenty that our man makes a success of his assignment in Red China.

WAY UP!

Old Boys' first airman with a general's rank was announced early in November. Brigadier General Michael F. Doyle (37/41) has been appointed chief of staff at First Air Division, Lahr, West Germany, to take effect in January, 1970.

With notable service in the European war, General Doyle has followed an active and administrative career in the R.C.A.F. since he rejoined it in 1948.

BACK TO THE LOCAL SCENE

Peter G. White (49/56) is President of Eastern Townships Publishing Company, which purchased the Sherbrooke Daily Record early in the Summer. Improvements in the Daily's format, editorial content and general appearance were evident from the first week of the new ownership.

Confirming that earlier impression in late November, we are happy to report with enthusiasm on the continuing expansion and development of the paper. Local scepticism has turned into downright applause as dedication to the Townships becomes its accepted policy.

EXPOSITION AT STUDIO 23

'Heard a number of references to Edward O. Phillips (46/47) and his widely ranging post-graduate studies, but it was only when a mutual friend showed an invitation to the opening of his exhibition that their extent was realized. Ted got his B.A. from McGill in 1953, and followed with a Bachelor of Law from U. of M. in 1956. Next year, Harvard conferred upon him an M.A. in teaching, and in 1962, he won an M.A. in English from Boston University. Studies at Montreal Museum School of Fine Arts occupied three years until 1968, and he was represented in private collections both in Canada and the U. S. before his opening at Studio 23 on November 13. There ought to be depth in his work!

MILESTONES

H. K. Hepburn (07/09) a valued and enthusiastic supporter of B.C.S. all his life died in July of this year.

John Sifton (43/44) died in Los Angeles on June 10th at the age of 43. "Speed" was here for a year only, but one of activity that his nickname suggests. Most notably, perhaps, he was a stalwart defenceman on the great hockey team of 1944. John went into the family newspaper business after leaving B.C.S., and continued his love of sports in the field of horsemanship.

It is with deep regret that we have to record the death of Arthur Karnkowsky (62/66) on August 2nd at New Haven, Connecticut. He came as a very small boy in the former Prep, and remained for one year in the Middle School.

TEN YEARS AGO

Ashbury remained the powerhouse team of the 'fifties', and its big, grade XIII linemen and backs were well held if they scored less than three touchdowns. We played 'em, though some other schools gave up on them. The School took on strong West Hill for an opener, romped at Stanstead, then tried out on Verdun, about the best on the Island, but fell heavily to Ashbury, here. Old Boys added another defeat after the Sunday interval at Thanksgiving, but then the team came back! A double-figure win gave us the Shirley Russell Cup five days later, and on Ottawa sod, School cut the previous Ashbury margin by a half, and polished off Stanstead with a shut-out to end the season. Stefan Marshall won the Cleghorn Cup. Scores were: West Hill, 6-16, Stanstead, 26-0 and 9-0; Verdun, 0-19; L.C.C. 13-1; Ashbury, 0-25 and 0-12.

Second Row: J. A. Sewell, D.N. Stoker, J.D. Arnold, C.E. Neill, C.G.M. Grier, Esq., Headmaster.

Back Row: W.F. Lowndes, Esq., A.W. Mackenzie, D.M. Johnson, W.E. Satterthwaite, A.S. Fraser, W.G. Arnold, G.E. Arnold.

One remembers on this team the gigantic figure of Bill Price, possibly the greatest in two score years of B.C.S. greats; the wrists, the hands and the initiative of stylish Mike Wallace, Cleg-horn Cupman; the abundant energy and effective talent of Pete Satterthwaite; Des Stoker's dead-accurate snaps and thumping tackles; Jim Sewell's piledriving through the front walls; Chuck Neill and his deadly tackling behind their line; Scotty Fraser's opportunism with a loose ball; the first-down-quick-kick and its devastating surprise, and those sweeping runs with the lateral pass curving the play around the end for yards and yards, and touchdowns. Lastly, and almost incredibly, that reversible combo: Mike and Bill pitching and catching the forward pass with equal address.

Twice they lost in eight games: once, carelessly, to Sherbrooke; again, by a point, to an Old Boys' team that featured Hugh Hallward's scoring pass and run, Bob McBoyle's touchdown pass-catch and Ken Darling's long, point-making kick.

They seldom subbed; Bill Lowndes's mirth-provoking, muscle-toughening P.T. rendered the whole bunch tireless and rugged. The subs wore out the seat of their pants and learned to wait, patiently, for next year. It was a good team, twenty-five years ago.

Scores were, against Stanstead, 33-2, 49-0; L.C.C., 19-1, 6-1; Old Boys, 11-12, S.H.S., 18-1, 7-10.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

The response to your compiler's inquiries about the 1919 football team was nothing less than thrilling. Excellent letters, a magazine, sere and yellow but readable, and biographical notes combining high good humour, eloquent, appreciative tribute and happy memories . . . it was a privilege to read them.

'Never knew, till now, that "Red" O'Brien, the coach and interim French master, stood on a box during the picture-shooting to compensate for his stature; nor that the Jaques brothers staged a kicking duel in the Old Boys' match that made sporting gossip for years afterwards.

What a rare collection of sportsmanship, ability, courage and humanity in that group of boys. Athletic careers at McGill, R.M.C. and the prestigious M.A.A. followed for some; business, industrial leadership, public service — name the constructive activity and at least one of the team seems to be ably representative in that field; the world's first electronic organ was later invented by the team's top pointmaker. Senior career — and citizen-soldier officers with major decorations played well and hard for the 1919 team as senior schoolboys. Wow! A sizeable piece of B.C.S. tradition can be found in that picture of half a century ago. . .

AND POSTSCRIPT

Since your compiler batted out the first returns from a six-letter-picked-by-lot inquiry, a tide of self-effacing, generous comment has flowed so strongly that something must be added; here goes:

Contemporary opinion on all members of the team is now available. Of those deceased, fairly recent information reminds that H. Foster went to R.M.C., where he starred on the football team, and into the army. As a Major General, he was twice decorated in World War II. Shortly before his death, Bill Burt met and was kind to a much younger Old Boy, up in the North Country, near Chibougamau. . .

Up to press deadline, there has been no recent news of C.P. Walker, Right Scrim. The magazine said of him, however, "second year at football, and he improves with time . . . one of our best linemen."

Other living team members, alphabetically:

F.G. Aylmer, Right Inside. "...played a very versatile game . . . a good tackler and a quick thinker . . . valuable man at almost every position. . ." He currently lives in Montreal.

D.K. Black, Flying Wing. Contemporaries salute him as an effective, intelligent and extremely courageous athlete. The Magazine stated, "smallest and lightest player on the team, but anybody who has seen him play will agree that he is one of the best players, for his size, in the game." A teammate rates him as one of the best tacklers he has ever seen . . . always got them around the ankles . . . quite fearless in tackling much bigger opponents.

His country recognized those qualities in the man by bestowing on him both a C.B.E. and D.S.O.

S.D. Cantlie, Sub. Another young, promising player. A distinguished career in the service of his country elevated him to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, with the Black Watch (RHR) of Canada. He is the best known of the 1919 team to your compiler, since, as a most considerate parent, he was a welcome visitor at School while his son, now Dr. George, was a boy at B.C.S.

L.O. Jaques, Left Half, Captain. If the School records, the Magazine and his teammates' comments are even moderately indicative of his worth, he must be ranked away up among the B.C.S. greats of the first half-century.

H. McNaughton, C. Scrim. The magazine pays tribute to his accurate passing, his positional play and aggressiveness. He doubled in basketball, too, with great success.

R. Martin, Sub. Another valuable player, the Magazine states. He had a productive wartime career in Administration, R.C.A.F., rising to Squadron Leader altitude. Numerous indications point to his warmth and humanity.

C.H. Pigot, Right Outside. "Although light and small," says the Magazine, "he was a dangerous tackler . . . one of the hardest workers on the team . . . his work is beyond reproach." Fifty years after, he supplied valuable information on the atmosphere of 1919 football, and generously noted the achievement of the others on the team.

F.M. Robb, Right Half. It remained to Miss Molony, School Secretary in 1919, to put the final seal of approval on this starry member of the team. Miss M. is not given to overstatement. When Morse Robb's name was mentioned, there was no question of her unqualified esteem. The 1919 Magazine seems to have reflected the current thinking: "without doubt one of the best schoolboy players in Canada. . ."

SPRING AND SUMMER ITEMS, 1969

CRICKET 1969

Although rain was the keynote of the cricket season, in the final analysis, it has been a season that will have lasting effect on future years.

Of prime importance was the planned trip to Ontario. Matches were scheduled against Lakefield College School and against Saint Andrew's College. Because of rain, these games unfortunately were not played. However, valuable contacts were made, organizational details were ironed out, and the school accustomed itself to the idea of a team travelling four hundred miles for cricket. As a result, plans for next year's trip are now well past the "idea" stage, and it is almost certain that one of the Ontario schools will be visiting us next spring. In a school all but devoid of schoolboy competition, this is progress.

There have been other changes as well. In the rink this year, three nets were set up instead of one. As a result, all cricketers including the New Boys, were able to begin practising in the first week of the term. The dividends in enthusiasm and ability were seen on the New Boy crease on one rainy Saturday when they played an entirely voluntary pick-up game. When reasonable weather arrived, or was thought to have arrived, the indoor nets were moved outside. The rain then began to cause problems, but if we had had enough netting to maintain indoor and outdoor nets at the same time, the rain's effect would have been minimal. This artificial method of lengthening the cricket season cannot help but improve the quality of the game.

The quantity of cricket also increased this year. The Under 16's were reinstated (and Hugh Doheny returned to the cricket scene). The New Boys played and won two matches against outside competition. And a league was formed for those boys who were not new to the school, wanted to play cricket, and yet could not make either of the two school teams. In total, almost one hundred boys played cricket this year.

The future prospects for B.C.S. cricket are very bright. Only final confirmation is needed for four schoolboy matches next year. A strong farm system to feed the First Eleven is in operation. The season's length has been increased by two or three weeks. The weather problem is being conquered. B.C.S. Cricket is regaining the strength it once had.

CLOSING DAY SPORTS, 1969

Heaps of competitors, sustained interest, and a sentimental touch at prizegiving were this year's features.

Robert McLernon, option senior of intermediate age, piled up unbeatable pointage with first team credits in football and cricket, plus individual school championships in tennis and squash, and became the second McLernon to have his name on the School's oldest challenge trophy, the Smith Cup.

Peter Bradley leaned upon three first team credits in football, hockey and cricket to beat out intermediate competition for the Captain C. S. Martin Cup.

Pierre Beland had built up a solid base of team points before the track season, and in Junior (R.M.C. Cup) competition, he made four firsts and a second in the five counting events for an unchallenged grip on the championship.

Frank Tardi got tough opposition from Dunn II (Robert) in Bantam Class. Dunn took the two field events and finished second in the hurdles; Tardi's three sprinting firsts were that much better for the Richardson Cup.

Peter Wright outpointed another Maritimer, Gordon Bell, and Pan-American Kimball Douglas-Tourner, for the Rankin Trophy (track and field selected events).

Smith House relay team came first over Grier's bid, and the Greenshirts picked up the Inter-House Track and Field pennant for the year.

Glass House outraced School House in the Junior Tuckshop Cup relay for the younger houses.

One record fell in the spring's competition. Rick Pfeiffer's 5' 6" Intermediate High Jump broke the mark set by John Dyer in 1967. There remain few "venerable" records on the books, now, with Jack Jenkins's Broad Jump remaining as the oldest.

Mick Doheny and Darrell Abbott ran 1, 2, in the Old Boys' Race — of gruelling length, this year!

Walter McMann presented the cups, medals and ribbons in this his 27th Closing Day at B.C.S. Head Prefect Michael Kenny ended the proceedings with a presentation to the veteran mathsman, and the gathering gave him a tremendous ovation.

ICI ON PARLE FRANCAIS

The eight session of French Summer School at B.C.S. drew 45 boys from Canada and Mexico this year. Bob Bédard was again the man in charge, with Monsieur P.E. Doucet from the CEGEP in Sherbrooke, David Williams from Stanstead College, J.G. Vigneault, Collegial St. Hyacinthe, and Graham Milne, from Schefferville as assistants. Ontario boys outnumbered the rest, with 40 would-be bilingualists.

From Grier House, they came out for morning classes, for afternoon track and field, soccer, softball, golf, tennis, cross-country running, ping-pong, basketball and many more recreations, the language being, always, French.

Films, daily, in French; excursions to Man and His World, Expos' Jarry Park, Quebec City, Ste. Anne de la Pocatière, St. Jean de Port Joli, Valcourt, North Hatley and Sherbrooke, widened and deepened each boy's acquaintance with the French tongue and the Quebec scene. Some summerers returned for the fall term at B.C.S.; the majority were, however, transients. A few B.C.S. regulars turned up to improve their language; they were remarkably cheerful, and goodnaturally embarrassed to address vacationing masters in la belle langue.

SCIENTIST ON SUMMER PROGRAMME

The Royal Canadian Institute Summer Science Programmes provide 67 selected high school students from across Canada with a rare opportunity to take part in a summer vacation programme of instruction in the Sciences. B.C.S. had a representative chosen this summer — Campbell Stuart — whose qualifications for and activity in the programme brought credit to his school. He is a third generation B.C.S. boy; just 71 years ago, his Grandfather, E.D. Stuart, was Head Prefect. Campbell himself has been a contributor to all phases of school activity since he came as a Remove Prepboy in 1964. A glance at the Thanksgiving Prize list shows him the most versatile scholar of 1969; his sports and other activities have been invariably whole-hearted and of high quality. Informal reports on his liveliness during the Science Programme tell of a constructive social and philosophical personality, and of his gifts to the community of bright young people who were his companions.

His account of the Programmes follows:

The most striking thing about the thirty-two students at the summer science programme at U.N.B. was their compatability. Half were boys, and half were girls, which needless to say helped the situation in this aspect, and never during the whole six weeks course was there an argument. The students had a certain amount in common; that was why they were chosen, but in addition, each seemed to have his own particular "thing" in which he excelled. For instance, one played the bagpipes — at 7:30 a.m. — and another started a yoga club.

The school grades of those involved were from ten to twelve, Quebec style, and there was fair representation from the whole of Canada. One girl came from the Yukon, and one boy from Yellowknife.

In general, the lectures which we attended at the University were very fast-paced and stimulating. There were, in all, some 32 professors coming from institutions such as the National Research Council in Ottawa, and from a large number of Canadian Universities. In a typical day, lectures would start at 8:30 a.m. and finish at 4:00, with an hour out for lunch. There were two lectures a day, covering such subjects as Chemistry, Physics, Biology, Geology and Math. In the last, we took a flash course in Logic and Calculus, and in the others, specific topics ranged from "nuclear magnetic resonance" to the molecular structure of hemoglobin and to electron microscopy.

The group went on several industrial tours, variously gaping at titanic cauldrons of molten lead, firing embarrassing questions about pollution at the manager of a K.C. Irving Refinery, and picking wild blueberries around the Bathurst ore mines.

We started having our own seminars, with the help of Dr. Burt and the two councilors, on things in general, and Canada in particular. From these came the resolution by a large proportion of the students to start a discussion group at home. A few decided to try setting up a foster parent programme at their school. B.C.S. is starting just such a scheme.

It was with great reluctance that we broke up in the middle of August. Most of the girls were in tears, and I myself, although I have lived at B.C.S. for more than five years, found I had learned a lot from these people in our brief acquaintance. C.S.

B.C.S. SCHOLARSHIPMEN IN ENGLISH SCHOOLS

Arthur Harpur and Ron Cathcart, successful Junior matriculants in June, aren't back for Form VII at B.C.S. The former is at Trent College, Long Eaton, Nottingham, and Cathcart is at St. Bees School, St. Bees, Cumberland, both on selection by the British and American Scholarship division of the English Speaking Union of the Commonwealth.

The Union has chosen, over the years, a few outstanding U.S. boys each year and placed them in foremost English Schools on a reciprocal scholarship basis. In 1969, they offered a place to one Canadian student and invited five schools, B.C.S. and the Little Big Four schools in Ontario, to submit nominations. We put in the two named above, and Harpur was chosen to go to Trent, but within hours, an American selectee had to withdraw, and the Scholarship Committee offered his place at St. Bees School to our other nominee, Ron Cathcart. Thus, we have possibly the unique distinction of double recognition in the E.S.U.C. plan.

If current plans are realized, we shall exchange annually with a selected English student. Meanwhile, this double representation is a matter of prestige and understandable pride to B.C.S. Lennoxville vivat. . .

NEW STAFF, 1969

BRIAN ANDER

It is particularly gratifying to welcome an Old Boy to the staff at B.C.S., and never has it been more agreeable than to extend the hand to Brian Ander (64/66), newest member of the Science Department.

Brian is Vancouver-born, raised in Quebec, where his father made his headquarters with B.O.A.C. He came to us from Pointe Claire, opted out of Latin in form V and into Biology. As a Seventh Former and School House Head Boy, he learned a good deal about dealing with boys' problems, and his determination to enter the teaching profession was by no means born of ignorance.

With a firm base in Senior Matric science, he won his B.Sc. in Zoology at U.B.C. in three years, and came straight back to fulfill his design, begun as a student-assistant with III Form Biology. Presently he is enrolled in the Department of Education at Bishop's University, and is a busy assistant master in Glass House, with teaching in the latter parts of the school day.

It is far too early to use the word, dedicated, but he undoubtedly lets go with a vigorous enthusiasm for his job, and, at the same time, his amiability and generous nature portend a promising future at B.C.S.

CLIFF GOODWIN

He brings to B.C.S. the wealth of interesting, qualifying experience he has crowded into an active life. Matric from Lachine High in 1961; Class II Teaching Diploma — and hockey captaincy — from Macdonald College, 1963, then a three years' teaching workout at Meadowbrook School, Lachine, and — back to school in September, 1966, having married, meanwhile, Patricia Jane Fisher.

Physical Ed and mathematics at North Hatley High School last year brought him into the B.C.S. orbit. We liked what we saw, and he is with us — mathematics, Phys. Ed. School House assistant master, and, to date, football and hockey coaching.

And at long last, late on Saturday, November 14, Thomas Clifford, weight 9 lbs. 4-1/4 ozs., made his debut, and Cliff finally got a night's sleep. A Monday half holiday for the School marked the event.

HARRY McFARLANE

A man of parts is Harry M. McFarlane, new member of the English Department and Co-ordinator of Developmental Reading.

Manitoba born, Maritime raised and educated — Mt. Allison, B.A. Honours, 1961 — he comes to us with eight years experience in Maritime high schools as a teacher of English, a Librarian and, with an R.C.A.F. commission, experience as a Cadet Instructor.

He is married, has three young daughters, and lives on t'other side St. Francis, in Lennoxville. At the School, he teaches in Forms II, IV and V, presides over the Book Shop in one of the partitioned rooms made from Room 7, and works on reading programmes with boys interested in developing that skill. He is on the Cadet Staff, runs a spirited Junior soccer league, takes duty at Smith House, and heads up Agora.

His activity in professional societies includes membership in the Canadian Council of Teachers of English. He shows a dedication to his job, and a generosity in relationships that mark him as a valuable addition to the School.

DAVID MORGAN

David Morgan, new man in the Art Room, brings a refreshing concept of art in a boy's training, and an appreciation of the entire educational process that commands immediate respect. Trained at Mount Allison University and the Montreal Museum School of Art and Design, he has two years teaching experience behind him, and has shown his work at Galerie Moos Inc., Montreal, in 1967-68, and with the Bronfman Collection at Man and His World, in 1969.

Amongst the impressive things observed in a brief afternoon visit to the Art Room was the enthusiasm of all the Fourth Formers there, and the last week's project, a colour chart, indicated that students are being introduced to the meaning of their procedure. They obviously enjoyed learning the ground rules of the colour game.

The Morgans live at Way's Mills, where they are renovating a house close by the Niger River. The contagious enthusiasm of this amateur construction man held the entire attention of a group of boys one day at lunch. Art instruction appears to be in good hands.

ÉNERGIE, ENTHOUSIASME, EXPÉRIENCE

C'est avec un vif plaisir que nous accueillons de nouveau Madame Smith. Après un séjour au Vermont et une année de retraite elle a consenti à redevenir des nôtres. Madame Smith s'adapte merveilleusement bien comme jadis dans une ambiance presque totalement masculine (honneur, si l'on peut dire, partagé par Senora Taboika). Soyez la bienvenue, madame.

Dr. WELLS RETIRES

In his speech at Thanksgiving the Headmaster announced with regret the retirement of Dr. Tom Wells as School Physician after nearly a quarter of a century of faithful service.

Mr. Large pointed out that in these days when house calls have become the subject of wry jokes Dr. Wells was an exception, and never failed to respond to an emergency appeal day or night in all those years. He also was an astute diagnostician who treated real trouble with sympathy and efficiency, but who soon recognized the malingerer and gave him an appropriate dose of blunt opinion slightly sweetened with humour.

The School, boys, staff, and Old Boys, are most grateful for the long and faithful service of Doctor Wells.

Dr. D.K. CAMPBELL

The School is fortunate to have secured the services of Dr. Donald K. Campbell as attending physician in place of Dr. Wells. Dr. Campbell practices in Sherbrooke, where he is on the staff of the Sherbrooke Hospital as well; he has an office in North Hatley, and shares with Dr. James Ross the care of students at Bishop's University. He has practiced in Sherbrooke for several years, and is no stranger to the community.

MICHAELMAS TERM, 1969

Many items of interest to some Old Boys, and some of general news value, have slipped through the compiling sieve. Several volunteered stories were not ready at printer's deadline; 'try to print them in the next edition. Similarly, many activities of cultural, technical and escapist nature are being tabulated, rather than reviewed, and will probably be versified in the style of Jack Horner; there's been a lot of activity in and out of the School!

THE CHANGING SCENE.

A LOOK BENEATH THE SURFACE

Old Boys visiting the School in this last year of the restless 'sixties can't miss the alterations in the mechanical plant — the Complexes, the lacrosse and basketball nets, the two-boy study and work tables, the new mini-lockers, changing rooms and Q.M. stores. The time-table also shows curriculum change of major proportions. To a resident of the School, equally arresting are the differences in the present School community — in geographic and cultural background, now tremendously more complex than the "type" B.C.S. society of a decade or a generation ago.

With all the change, the constant strengths of B.C.S. remain. Sound minds and buoyant, generous spirits enter our community from many different quarters: both from traditional School families and from homes totally unacquainted with our tradition, but with similar, high standards of truth, honour, diligence and compassion. From a domain that grows wider year by year, we draw new riches of personality and experience. Let us look briefly at some evidences of the New Constituency.

Two rather significant changes may be noted: our ecumenical religious background and the more cosmopolitan nature of the B.C.S. realm. A study of the School List, in mid-term, revealed the following items:

Denominationally, Anglicans hold a mere 67-66 numerical edge over Roman Catholics. Undenominationalized are 44 who claimed to be simply Protestants; 23 have membership in the United Church of Canada. There are eight Jewish boys, seven Presbyterians, four Unitarians, two Baptists, and a long line of singles — Greek, Syrian and Lebanese Orthodox, Lutheran and Christian Scientist. Two boys had no religious affiliation, and there were single representatives of Hindu and Zoroastrian beliefs.

From point of view of residence, Quebec still is out in front as the home of most boys. Eight provinces are represented, with Manitoba and Saskatchewan the only absentees. U.S.A. sends us eight; Bermuda and the West Indies, five each. Peru and Argentina both have three representatives here. Singles go to Arabia, China, Guyana, Portugal, Ethiopia, Brazil, Venezuela and England.

SO, WHAT?

Has heterogeneity of the Chapel congregation muddled or weakened the spirit of its worship? All visible evidence says it has not.

Probably the Chapel services, begun a century and a third ago, were intended only for duly baptized and confirmed members of the Church of England. Perhaps they were not designed to develop a boy's composure in public utterance. There have been evolutionary changes, however, conceivably for the better. Mark this: Monday, October 27th. The hymn was 412; Onward, Christian Soldiers! This particular song used to bother, a little. Not many years ago, a few boys stony-faced it, and the majority's lusty participation could have been heard as vociferous religious intolerance. Nobody stood rigidly, today, and every boy with a voice appeared to be joining in the song with collective enjoyment.

George Chow, formerly of Hong Kong, read the lesson. He has been in Canada for two years. Meticulously correct in his deportment, he read from Genesis the instructions for building and equipping the Ark to a School body that listened, all attention, to his controlled, quiet delivery. It was a thrilling experience in mutual respect.

Significant, it might be noted, was the unanimous vote of confidence in the value of Morning Chapel, given by a voluntary meeting of all Masters whose concern for daily prayers, reading and hymn was recorded only days after the incidents cited above.

CONTROL AND RESPONSIBILITY

Head Boys, those officers with unique meaning at B.C.S., and House Officers, who functioned under a four-year experiment that did not fulfil expectations, have disappeared as of Michaelmas term, 1969. Replacing these former nominees, and responsible for various areas of control are the Seniors — all members of Forms VI and VII, and, of course, the Prefects, the ultimate student authorities. The latter's numbers have been reduced; seven, inclusive of the Head Prefect, do the job.

Seniors accept short-term periodic responsibility for duties shown in the accompanying Duty Roster John Cowans, working in conjunction with the Prefects and Seniors, is responsible for disposition and top-level control of this new set-up. One hears favourable comment from Senior boys' parents quite frequently, indicating that the experiment shows positive advantages. . . Old Boys will interpret the significance of job distribution from a look at this sample notice.

Leadership in the Houses has been taken over largely by Seniors; Williams House, for example, has no specified officers.

Seniors may elicit student help in carrying out their tasks by applying to the Prefect on duty for the week. Usually, the Prefect gives the Senior a couple of boys who have stepped over the line. . .

ATTENDANCE CHECK AND LINES

Roll Call has given way almost entirely to table – and seating – check by School officers and Senior boys. Mealtime “line” has gone, and is replaced by a completely informal migration to the Dining Rooms. Inside, fluidity is characteristic of the seating in the Senior Dining Room, with Prefects and Masters almost as frequently on the long benches as at the serving chairs.

Extension of the Complex apportionment all along Second Floor ended the traditional queue of New Kids there. New Boys’ line dissection was effected by dropping Fifth Formers from the obligation, and by sending Fourth Form frosh to the gym, and Glass House boys to their house, for separate inspections.

TRADITION IN THE COMPOSITE

Notwithstanding the wider geographical range, the more varied cultures, languages and background of our present school riding, a sound and encouraging tradition can be found in the two dozen boys — exactly ten percent of the school body — who are sons of Old Boys. Their fathers' confidence in the School has made them, also, B.C.S. boys. Such current New Boys and their fathers follow: Tim and Chris, sons of brothers Derek and Phil Atkinson (37/39); Joseph (III), son of J.O. Davis (40/43); Allan, son of Henry Federer (40/41); Jamie (II), son of John A. Fuller (44/44); Phil, son of Philip Mackenzie (35/37); William, son of Alex Mackenzie (41/45); and Bruce (II), son of Frank I. Ritchie (34/35).

THANKSGIVING, 1969

Always lavish in welcoming the Thanksgiving visitors at Lennoxville, the autumn colours dazzled in 1969. There was a threat of wind and rain, but that was all, and Saturday was one of the loveliest days in memory.

Second team tied it with Stanstead on the First Crease field, with Leger doing his usual for the Jayvee squad, a touchdown in the last quarter. First Team opened strongly, ran up a 14-6 lead at half time, but slipped to a 28-14 loss in the second session. Our defence against the deep pass and screened sweep was inadequate to stop a Stanstead team that became stronger as the game lengthened. Offensively, we appeared to slow down in the second half.

Sunday's weather held for Chapel and the Parents' Inquiry. The Chaplain asked surprising, sharply pointed questions about giving thanks. The Choir's part drew abundant favourable comment.

In the Parents-Masters confrontation, the parents most graciously bent another tradition by signing their own identification tags. Myopics, however, had it just as tough as before. Tribute to the Staff Wives for a masterful decorating job; the cheerful setting seemed to influence the meeting's good humour.

Transfer of the Old Boys' game to a November date made a hesitant pause in Monday morning's activities, but Prize-giving went smoothly and well. Directors' Chairman, Hugh Hallward, presented some of today's school problems with a knowledgeable directness that inspired confidence in our management. The Head followed with a lucid account of B.C.S.'s progressive leadership amongst Canadian independent schools.

Former Board Chairman, R.R. McLernon, presented academic and achievement prizes to a widely scattered group of winners.

Juan Fuentes, a one-year B.C.S. Seventh Former, now at McGill, won the Old Boys' Prize for leading the Senior Matric class. Ralph Carmichael received the first B.C.S. Medal, the new award for Senior French. The Robert A. Kenny Prize for advanced mathematics went to Kim Douglas-Tourner, an absentee recipient.

In the Sixth, Alan Lawee, now at M.I.T., won the Governor-General's Medal. Robert Marien received the Minister of Education Medal for French. Campbell Stuart took three — the Hooper Math Prize, the Science Prize and the Captain J. Melville Greenshields Memorial Scholarship. John Mundy, now at Lisgar Collegiate in Ottawa, won the Gerry Hanson Prize for History and also the Sixth Form Prize for Latin. Donald Ritchie won both the English Prize and the Grant Hall Medal for Debating.

In the Special Prize list were Alan Wade, who won the Kenneth Hugessen Prize for Creative Writing. The Chairman's Prize for greatest academic improvement went to Ronald Cathcart, who raised a final mark in Form V of 72.9% to a Provincial Junior School Leaving mark of 82.6. The Vice-Chairman's Prize for best use of the Library was awarded to a Third Former, Myles Frosst. David Fisher received the Headmaster's Prize for reading in Chapel. The Lieutenant Hugh Ross Cleveland Medal for the best potential soldier was won by John Seveigny. The Hartland B.

MacDougall Medal for Leadership, Industry and Games was won by Michael Kenny.

B.C.S. Tankards were awarded to Ralph Carmichael for his contribution as a Prefect, in the Cadet Corps, and in games, particularly as hockey captain. In all these areas, he displayed unfailing sportsmanship, understanding and justice. Arthur Harpur was the other tankard recipient (in absentia), cited as an outstanding Prefect, gamesman and a strong influence through his unfailing good humour and his concern for others.

OUR GUESTS, THE OLD BOYS

Old Boys' Weekend, with a brace of matches, turned out to be a signally happy affair, e'en though the School quaffed the bitter cup of defeat, taking the short end of an 18-20 thriller on First Crease Field. Concurrently, Varsity Soccer eleven beat a composite Old Boys' team, 5-2, up beyond the Rink.

Two Head Prefects, Peter Wright, present No. 1 boy, and Dave McLernon, leader in 1961-62, grabbed most of the headlines as the former ran away for three School T.D.'s, and Dave's two majors, with a pair of converts, gave him 14 of the Reds' points. Mark Molson scooted for the third Old Boys' touchdown.

School played much of its best season's football, and led, 12-7, at the half. Old Boys, meanwhile, tended to explode with speed and power, and both goal lines were constantly menaced. Tackling, close to the ground level, snuffed out many Red threats as the School played desperately for a win.

Old Boys were still behind, 13-18, as the last quarter began. Dave McLernon spurted, oscillated and streaked to pay dirt with four minutes gone, and booted a neat convert to put the Old Boys up by two points. School threatened to score four times before the whistle, but missed the boat.

In the Soccer match, François de Ste Marie's two goals, the total output of the Old Boys soccerites, weren't enough to match five School points from the toes of David Fuller and James Ahern. Fuller, son of John Fuller (40/44), got his hat trick, and Ahern, a Seventh Form New Boy from Bermuda, scored one on a penalty kick and another from play.

The football game, in the opinion of many observers, was the best in years, and showed up both squads as vigorous, but not vindictive, opponents. The prevailing good will carried over to the Plantation Party, where the Head and Mrs. Large were amiable hosts to Old Boys, their wives and friends, and the School staff. Unsolicited comment on the visit here ran from emphatic approval to enthusiasm, and throughout all of it there was optimism for the future of Old Boys' Weekend.

FOOTBALL

Could be that fall, 1969, will have been a season of preparation for triumph. We draw heavily, every year, on the minor teams of the previous year, and both qual- and quantitatively the football reservoir appears to be in promising condition.

A sizeable Third Crease (biggest turnout in years) ran a spirited league, and the All Stars won over Selwyn House convincingly (18-0) in their extra-mural debut, on Old Boys' Saturday.

Second Team was unbeaten till their final game of the season, but hadn't quite the stuff to Selwyn House team. Witnesses testify to their excellence at Stanstead, cold Saturday morning of October 25, their penultimate game of the year.

Firsts won their opener at Quebec and ran second from then on. Their pattern was usually a strong offensive before half time, a slowdown during the second half. They possessed surprising resilience, on the other hand. Tackling, frequently, was woeful – but almost invariably, the taggers of one game became tigers in the next, and it was a matter of satisfaction to watch their final effort against an Old Boys' team that boasted three Smith Cupmen – Timmie Bradley, Dave McLernon and Duncan McNeill, as well as a pair of Cleghorn nominees – John McLernon and Steve Newton.

Statistically, they went against Quebec High 26-6; St. Pat's (Quebec) 6-24; Stanstead 14-28; LCC 6-8; Stanstead 6-20; Ashbury 14-20; Old Boys 18-20.

SOCCER

As it was with the footballers, so the soccerites came up with promising displays. Senior Varsity (First Team Soccer! ) had a 5-5-1 record, and gave a good show. Their goals came through coordination, positional on-timeliness and unusually good heading. Fuller and Ahern were multiple scoring threats, and it was fitting that the ol' veteran, Fuller, got a hat-trick in his valedictory game.

Junior Varsity (Under-16) were undefeated in eight games. They tied their final match against Richmond Regional School, but served up as fine a dish as anyone in this township remembers. Conditioned, aggressive and thoroughly a team, they were grand to watch and cheer for. You had the feeling that this was a veteran team – which it was – and that any losses in former personnel had been amply refilled. Norwood, for example, proved to be a kingpin, rather than merely a stopper, as he fitted nicely into a forward vacancy. Two-footed scorers not only made it tough for the goalies, but fun for the fans, and spectators stayed on till the final whistle – there was so much not to be missed.

Junior Reserve tickled the fancy, too. They posted a 4-1-2 record. Another fall, and they could be, with their experience and native ability, as sensational as the J.V's.

Senior Reserve played two extramural games against Selwyn House, and an Intramural League kept things hopping behind the Library where the Prep used to perform in their vertical striped jerseys.

SOGGY MINIMARATHON, 1969

Two records were established in the 1969 Cross Country: 204 finishers established a new high total, and for the first time over the present course, 8 wrong-way runners hit the tape from the south, rather than from the opposite, legal direction, namely, the Power House-Infirmary roadway.

Grier House, meanwhile, lined up five diggers behing their new Boswell Trophyman, David Fuller, to nose out Smith House, 519.1 points to 514.9, for the team shield. This gave Grier its second copper disc on the scutcheon; they also won in 1962.

Fuller's win was a triumph of unassuming, systematic preparation. He ran eighth in 1968, but little was said about his chances amongst the bookies before the race.

Aird Barwick repeated his 1968 Heneker win in the Junior. His time was slow, but he had close competition from Graeme Magor, less than a yard behind at the tape. New Boy Jamie Fuller was third. Yes, it runs in the family, and no pun intended. Bill Fuller, uncle of the 1969 brothers, won the Heneker Cup in 1947 from the largest Junior field in a 12-year stretch.

School House outpaced Glass House in the Junior House Shield competition.

The rain was heavy and sustained, with gumbo and water-courses underfoot; time records aren't often set in these circs.

Senior First Ten (134 starters): Fuller, Etheridge, Pfeiffer, Mayer, Martin-Smith, Raza, McGee, Howson, Bovaird, Daughney.

Junior First Ten (79 starters): Barwick, Magor, Fuller II, Fyon, Woodsworth, Levesley, Black, Marshall, Prieur, Atkins.

Grier House Team was Fuller, Bovaird, Hamilton I, Smith I, Stuart I, Walker I.

MODEL U.N.

Agora, under Harry McFarlane's supervision, sponsored a Model United Nations afternoon on November 21 in the gym. 33 representatives of member nations sat in, with Chairman Eric Bagnall at the podium, Dinyar Marzban as a rapid calculating Secretariat, a swarm of page-boys running notes, and backstage, John Whitmore and his minions controlling the P.A. system.

Eight prepared resolutions were given rough treatment, with four proposals being voted upon, two running into adverse majorities. On the other hand, the People's Republic of China was admitted to U.N. membership. The C.I.A. will possibly daub Lennoxville red on its map.

Bagnall was fair, gentlemanly, and on the ball. His organization was matched by his unruffled patience and the manner in which he submerged his own personality in the job at hand.

Half a hundred boys had an afternoon's workout in mental and verbal gymnastics, and learned a great deal about parliamentary procedure through participation in it.

CONTINUITY AND PARTICIPATION

David Cruickshank, the Choirmaster, was away from School during the last ten days of November, conferring with the Registrars of several eastern universities. In his absence, choir training and hymn appreciation were carried on well indeed. On one Friday morning's congregational singout, Mr. Greer introduced Beethoven's Ninth Symphony via the School's P.A. system, and told sympathetically of the composer's being denied through deafness much of the joy that accompanies creation. The School concluded by singing, with some uncertainty but with obvious enjoyment, Hymn 403, so happily chanted in the '50-'60 era that it was semi-officially the School Hymn.

On the First Sunday in Advent, David Fuller, acting choirmaster, conducted the choir in the Christmas anthem, Torches, by John Joubert. This was, in all probability, a first-time anthem direction by a schoolboy at a B.C.S. service. His leadership was unobtrusively positive; the choir's response, wholehearted.
